

GENERAL SHAKE DOWN OF N. R. A. CODES PLANNED

Inconsistencies To Be Corrected By Hugh
Johnson

By James Cope.

Associated Press Staff Writer.

Washington, Jan. 5.—(P)—A general shake-down of the big code structure erected by NRA will be undertaken by Hugh S. Johnson next month to correct inconsistencies and injustices discovered during the several months of operating experience.

He plans to call in the nearly 200 code authorities, industry's own governing groups, for a thorough airing of difficulties, both within and between coded industries. From what is learned then, he hopes to achieve a degree of consistency throughout the industrial control machinery which was impossible as long as the experimental phases of code creation dominated NRA activities.

Plan Enforcement.

While Johnson was announcing this broad program, President Roosevelt reaffirmed the administration's intention to use the federal trade commission for enforcement of the anti-trust laws where violations develop under NRA. The industrial law suspends most anti-trust law provisions, but only to permit such agreements as are expressly sanctioned by the government through codes. The statutes remain in full effect otherwise.

The chief executive also revealed that he is postponing approval of the newspaper code to give further study to its provisions on child labor.

Johnson cautioned newspapermen in regard to his plan for reviewing code troubles by pointing out that "the centers of controversy are not much more than six or eight."

He claimed that he has not developed the idea very far as yet although he has definitely made up his mind to do it.

Simultaneously, he announced a public hearing February 15 to consider the proposals of bankers to like service charges and depositors and make them under the bank code. He said a public discussion of the charges was "what should have been done in the first place."

Instead, through a series of misunderstandings and mistakes, the bank authority had ordered into effect throughout the country on January 1 an elaborate set of charges far beyond the kind now being considered in most areas. Johnson admitted the mistakes occurred and they will remain so until after the opening hearing.

One of the "centers of controversy" referred to by Johnson will be tackled without further delay at the general meeting. A review of the lumber code was announced today for January 9, and everybody with a complaint, whether lumberman, customer or labor representative, was invited to put in an appearance.

These developments fitted into the program, initiated yesterday, with a hearing on the electrical manufacturing code, of scrutinizing all codes for discrimination against small industrial units.

It pointed out also that surveys to date show NRA's influence on small concerns very widely, some reporting themselves greatly helped and others shut down. Some definite conclusions were promised within three weeks.

A native of Sandwich, Ill., Thomas operated a large firm dealing in second hand cash registers in Chicago. A daughter, Mrs. Albert Duncan of Evanston, survives. The funeral will be Monday.

Original Of "Star-Spangled Banner" Sells For $24,000

New York, Jan. 5.—(P)—The original manuscript of the anthem of the United States, Francis Scott Key's "Star Spangled Banner," was sold at auction today for $24,000 to Dr. A. S. W. Rosenbach, well known New York city collector of rare books.

The manuscript is from the collection of the late Henry Walters of Baltimore and was sold at the order of the safe deposit and trust company of Baltimore.

The manuscript was the first complete composition of the author, having been transcribed by Key from rough notes written on board the vessel from which, as a prisoner, he viewed the engagement that prompted the piece.

Also he claimed that he has not developed the idea very far as yet although he has definitely made up his mind to do it.

Simultaneously, he announced a public hearing February 15 to consider the proposals of bankers to like service charges and depositors and make them under the bank code. He said a public discussion of the charges was "what should have been done in the first place."

ROOSEVELT TO KEEP BUDGET DOWN, CLAIM

Tells Democrats They Must Keep Within
Limitations

By Sam Bledsoe

Associated Press Staff Writer.

Washington, Jan. 5.—(P)—Democratic members of the house appropriations committee were called to the White House today and were told by President Roosevelt the importance of keeping next year's budget for the regular departments within the narrow limitations he has laid down.

Although the 1935 budget approximates $6,000,000,000 only $2,466,768,200 is provided for the regular government departments. Included in the regular budget for 1935, however, is $750,000,000 for the farm adjustment administration but this organization is one created by emergency legislation.

World Balance Budget

It was emphasized that should congress substantially raise the funds for the regular departments or embark on a spending program outside the sums already totaled for emergency spending the central administration of balancing the budget in 1936 would be shattered.

This might imperil government credit—one of the dangers of which the president is acutely aware.

Chairman Buchanan and the heads of the various appropriations subcommittees said "aye" to the presidential demand. In turn, they told the chief executive they thought there would be little trouble in voting the $3,000,000,000 required in addition to the regular budget for 1935.

Since representative Small, republican house leader, and other members have indicated they might make an issue of the governmental pay slash, the chief executive informed members of the committee that he had in mind a special message to congress on this subject.

It will urge, committee members said, that congress adhere to his budget recommendation for a restoration of five percent in the pay of government workers instead of the full 15 percent slash made by last year's economy act.

It was disclosed also that the president intends to accompany the message with a special table showing that five percent increase corresponds to the increase in the cost of living since the 15 percent cut was made.

Committee members said the president had been in communication by telephone during the day with bankers over the country and that he was confident there would be little difficulty in borrowing the $10,000,000,000 in federal funds required during the next six months.

LAGUARDIA WILL CLEAR NEW YORK
CITY'S "SLUMS"

Contribution Of $25,000,000
Has Been Received From Federal P. W. A.

By Francis A. Jamieson.

Associated Press Staff Writer.

New York, Jan. 5.—(P)—Clearance of the city's slums, advocated by social workers for years, awaits only the legislature's approval to get started as a major undertaking of Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia's administration.

With a contribution of $25,000,000 earmarked yesterday for the vast task by the federal public works administration, Mayor La Guardia said today he would see immediate action by the legislature for creation of municipal housing authorities. The plan already has the approval of Gov. Herbert H. Lehman, who termed it "an opportunity for our cities" to provide low-rental housing with the aid of the federal government.

Tenements in the lower east side, Harlem, Bronx and the Brooklyn yard section—known over the nation as inadequate for healthful living purposes—will be torn down and replaced by modern, inexpensive buildings for the city's residents of moderate means.

Clearance of the slums is a job that will take years, but La Guardia said he believed legislative action would be forthcoming shortly and that the work can start by March 1.

Governor Lehman, enthusiastic in his approval of the project, has asserted that the changing pattern of society demands new angles of approach to the problem of slum clearance. He added that since private enterprise has not supplied the cities with adequate moderate housing the problem must be tackled by the municipalities.

FURTHER ACTION
ON LIQUOR BILL IS POSTPONED

Horner-Kelly Measure
May Pass Senate
Next Week

By William E. Walton.

Associated Press Staff Writer.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 5.—(P)—Further action on the Horner-Kelly compromise liquor control plan today was delayed by the Senate until next week, when administration leaders hope to place the bill before the House for concurrence.

After a short session the Senate recessed until Tuesday. The House will also come back to wait final action by the Senate, Democratic spokesmen said.

Amendments Added.

Seven more amendments were added to the already long list which the Senate has tacked on to the bill since it passed the House.

Clubs in territory that has voted dry under local option will be permitted to sell liquor to members under an amendment adopted today. The amendment was introduced by Harry C. Stettin, Litchfield Democrat.

Members of county boards were added to the list of law-enforcing public officials who will be forbidden any interest, direct or indirect, in the manufacture, sale or distribution of liquor in an amendment sponsored by President Pro Tem Richey V. Graham.

A provision that no liquor with the package seal broken can be transported in an automobile was added to the measure. It brought charges from Senator M. M. Mason, Oglesby Republican, that it would encourage temperance. People would be encouraged to drink the entire contents of a bottle rather than throw it away upon entering a car, Mason said.

Other new amendments provide for the licensing of railway cars and requiring the prominent display of all licenses.

Over the week-end a new amendment embodying all of the provisions of the many amendments that have been adopted will be drawn up by Dewitt Billman, head of the legislative reference bureau. Thus inconsistencies in the complicated measure will be done up and the revamped bill rounded into its final Senate shape.

Administration leaders hope to advance the bill to third reading after consideration of the few remaining amendments Tuesday, and to take final action Wednesday.

If the program is carried out, the bill, which has been in the Senate for weeks in the Senate, will be sent back to the House Wednesday for concurrence or the appointment of a conference committee.

PILOTLESS PLANE
STRIKES BUILDING

Pittsburgh, Jan. 5.—(P)—An airplane from which Pilot George Yeschke leaped to safety a moment before it crashed today on Baum boulevard, one of Pittsburgh's main thoroughfares, missing by a few feet several large apartment houses.

Yeschke came down in his parachute and was caught by wires on a bridge spanning the Pennsylvania railroad tracks, but was unhurt.

In terror, hundreds of occupants of offices and apartment houses saw Yeschke leap and the pilotless plane crash in splinters against a business building bordering the boulevard.

Spectators said there were no pedestrians or automobiles in the street at the time.

JOHN PANFIELD SURRENDERS TO CHICAGO POLICE

Denies His Connection With Slaying Of Two Babies

Chicago, Jan. 5.—(P)—John Panfield, wanted in connection with the slaying of two babies and the beating of their mother, was arrested tonight after a two-day search.

He confessed, police said that he had committed several burglaries at the instigation of John Piotrowski, father of the children who previously had admitted to police, they said, that he slew his own children and attacked his wife after finding her in Panfield's arms.

Panfield, a roomer at the Piotrowski home, denied any connection with the slayings of the infants. Piotrowski, 40, and his wife, Mrs. Piotrowski, 35, were arrested after Mrs. Piotrowski, who said she was not present when Piotrowski set upon them Wednesday afternoon.

The youth of 19 gave himself up to the officers.

The story Piotrowski, 27, told them, police said, was that he left his work on a civil works administration project, went home, attempted to destroy his family, and returned to work four hours later, telling his foreman he had gone to court to testify against a burglar. His statement asserted, police said, he returned home after work with a friend, pretended to be hurt and was taken to a hospital. He had been attacked and his wife had been killed, but later, according to police, confessed he lost his head when he found Panfield, a roomer at their home, making love to his wife. His wife, rallying from the point of death, was recovering but unable to make a statement tonight.

Piotrowski at one time confessed slaying Panfield and hiding his body in a field. Tonight, however, Panfield said he had not been attacked and police said they believed his story of innocence.

FARM LOANS MAY BE GUARANTEED
BY GOVERNMENT

Congress Will Be Asked To Lighten Burden of Home
Owners, Farmers

Washington, Jan. 5.—(P)—President Roosevelt contemplates asking Congress to have the government guarantee the principal of $4,000,000,000 of bonds to lighten the burdens of the farmer and the home owner.

The bonds, now guaranteed by the government only so far as interest is concerned, have been described in congressional circles as slow of sale. The guarantee of both principal and interest would throw the whole weight of the government back of them and make them as readily salable as government bonds.

Roosevelt explained that the purpose of guaranteeing the farm securities was to make possible sending bonds to the farmers in exchange for mortgages instead of selling the bonds, and then sending the farmer cash.

The farm credit agency has been approving loans at the rate of about $150,000 a month.

William I. Myers, governor of the farm credit administration, reported to the president today that loans totaling $200,000,000 had been made and that $106,000,000 had been put in December alone.

"We are really on the way now," he said.

All the bonds issued by the farm credit administration so far have been taken up by the Reconstruction Corporation.

Government fiscal experts said that guarantee of the bonds would not increase the public debt by the full amount of the $4,000,000,000. Even in the unlikely event that none of the bonds were sold, the government's debt would be increased only by the difference between the sale value of the collateral—the farms and homes—and the total amount of the issue.

Chairman Smith of the Senate agriculture committee said the legislation to guarantee the farm bonds would be introduced simultaneously next week in House and Senate.

BANK DEPOSITS
ARE EXPANDING

Chicago, Jan. 5.—(P)—Bank statements published today reveal that Chicago's aggregate deposits and cash resources expanded in the last three months of 1933 while outstanding loans and discounts showed a moderate shrinkage.

Both national and national banks reported on their conditions as of Dec. 30 in response to calls from the state auditor and the comptroller of currency.

Recording an increase of some 46 millions over October figures, Chicago banks reported deposits as of Dec. 30 of $1,790,070,000. Cash resources of reporting banks were reported at $881,271,000, an increase in three months of seven millions.

The ratio of cash resources to total deposits indicated a high degree of liquidity.

BANK WILL LIQUIDATE

Litchfield, Ill., Jan. 5.—(P)—Stockholders of the Sorento National bank, organized in Sorento, Ill., in 1914 have decided to liquidate the institution because of insufficient business. Failure of coal mines in the vicinity and general poor conditions brought about the decision, it was explained.

Who Carried First Bottle Is Argued By Congressmen

Washington, Jan. 5.—(P)—The simple question—who carried the first bottle?—sent the House of Representatives abuzzing today.

Two Illinois members, Britten and Sabath, were the principals, the former being an advocate of an embargo against French wines.

"You are an expert on French wines," Sabath told him with a reproachful air, "I don't want to talk with you."

"I want to ask the gentlemen when they are going to pay back that bottle of gin he borrowed from me three years ago?" Britten returned.

Face reddening, Sabath waved his hand toward Britten to cease.

"I'll return it when it is legal. I don't want to carry it through the streets," he waved.

"You don't want to carry it?" demanded Britten with an incredulous tone. "Who carried the first bottle?"

The exchange stopped there. Liquor is still illegal in Washington, because of the local dry act.

TREASURY WILL COLLECT BACK
TAXES, CLAIM

Revenue Collectors To Be Mobilized
Soon

By Richard L. Turner

Associated Press Staff Writer.

Washington, Jan. 5.—(P)—By a vigorous concerted drive, treasury officials hope to collect more than $300,000,000 in delinquent taxes during the next 18 months and thus put a nick of that size in the deficit forecast by President Roosevelt.

Secretary Morgenthau today disclosed plans for mobilizing internal revenue collectors in an intensive campaign to which is to be added an effort to speed up the processes by which the government and taxpayers settle disputes as to the amounts to be paid.

Need Ten Billion

Meanwhile, departmental officers went ahead with plans for the borrowing operations which the president yesterday told congress must be carried out before June 30. A total of ten billion in government securities must be floated, he said, six billions for the needs of the recovery program and four more to pay off obligations that mature within the period.

Morgenthau said today he and his associates were "confident" the investing public would respond as readily as in the past and that no difficulty would be met in raising the money. A start, he said, must be made "right soon."

The cabinet officer estimated that delinquent taxes totalled some $800,000,000. The expected collections of $300,000,000, which were disclosed later, are roughly a little less than 40 percent of that amount, a proportion well above the average of collected delinquencies. This over a period of years has been around 30 percent.

The procedure to be followed, Morgenthau said, is this:

Collectors of internal revenue will be summoned to a meeting here January 17 at which the problem will be thoroughly discussed.

"We will work out a quota on back taxes for each internal revenue collector, put the quota up on a blackboard and see how the collectors can bring down their quotas. The secretary said, 'We'll have a little rivalry.'"

As ever, they will have the inducement which goes with the system whereby their rating, and consequently their pay, is gauged according to the collection of back taxes.

In the internal revenue bureau, a drive to hasten the adjudication of contested tax claims is already in progress. The bureau's advisory committee was recently organized for that purpose and an announcement made that no further continuances would be granted by the board of tax appeals, the judicial body which rules on such cases.

Delinquent taxes fall into two groups: taxes which are not paid when due and additional taxes ordered by the bureau of internal revenue after checking the return of the taxpayer. In the latter class, additional assessments of $109,695,997 were ordered in the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1933, and $50,973,392 the previous fiscal year. Most of the additional assessments are appealed to the board.

The treasury has made it clear that in its borrowing operations the usual procedure will be followed. New securities will be offered in exchange for old as the latter mature and will be offered to the public for subscription to meet the government's needs for cash.

With President Roosevelt predicting that a start can be made on reduction of the national debt after June 30, 1935, it is expected that a large part of the new securities will be in the comparatively short term category, two to five years. Ninety-day bills, large blocks of which fall due in the next few months may be replaced as usual with the same kind of paper.

WORKERS WITHDRAWN

Chicago, Jan. 5.—(P)—The CWA withdrew 1,600 cook county workers from their jobs today, announcing dissatisfaction with information and specifications furnished by the board of education for purchase of working materials.

The workers were painting and decorating public schools.

Frank Chase, Illinois director of the CWA, said new materials had been purchased and the men would resume work Monday.

A $40,000,000 Swindle

The Senate has called for a report from the treasury on our foreign debt situation. Representative Britten of Illinois has proposed an embargo on French wines to make the defaulter nation feel the weight of Yankee wrath. Congress is growing for collection of the debt, whether or no.

All this is right to the point; but it would seem Nemesis has also taken a hand in punishing the French for their failure to pay. A giant swindle, which broke the municipal pawnshop at Bayonne, has cost the French $40,000,000. That money would have gone a long way toward meeting the two U. S. debt installments on which France has defaulted.

With all their thrift and ability to borrow and keep what they get, no matter how they get it, the French are shown by this affair to be easily duped. A promoter known as "Handsome Alex" Stavinsky handled the pawnshop and some eight other companies. He was a beau brasseur and moved in the best society, hobnobbing with ministers and members of the Chamber of Deputies. He got next to the best minds and parted them from their money with skill.

Now he's gone—with $40,000,000, and the French police are looking for him, while the cabinet ministers and other high officials fight to save their faces. Those who conspired to cheat another country out of a just debt payment have themselves been cheated. Somehow their plight does not rouse our sympathies. That forty million should have been in the U. S. Treasury.

School For Wives

When Mary Pickford landed in Chicago this week, she had some opinions to express regarding the attitude of wives toward husbands. Smiling as ever, she yet showed that her estrangement from Douglas Fairbanks is a bitter experience.

Mary Pickford thinks there should be a school where wives may be taught to be reasonably selfish. She feels that too much kindness can often ruin a husband, and that wives should assert themselves more than they do. She doubtless feels that she didn't handle Doug right, didn't treat him rough enough.

The character of the man will determine how he responds to kindness on the part of his wife. If he takes it as a matter of course and selfishly does not reciprocate, he is a cad and deserves worse treatment. If he treats his wife as kindly as she treats him, all will go well, and there will be no divorce court for such a couple. The wife's treatment should be mutual. If it is one-sided, there is something wrong with the one who receives, but does not give.

More marriages have been spoiled by selfishness than by aught else, and people do not have to go to school to learn how to be selfish; they are born that way. What both husbands and wives need to learn is how to be unselfish, and how to live together in mutual understanding and domestic accord.

Honor System Works

Alabama prison officials are jubilant over the fact that only four of 330 long-term convicts failed to return to prisons and road camps following Christmas holiday furloughs; they were allowed to spend at home. The officials feel that the honor system they have established is vindicated by this exceptional record.

Of thirty-eight trustees stationed in the city capital, every man returned to custody. The holiday vacations were granted on a "man to man" agreement between convicts and the prison wardens. The men have justified the faith that was placed in them. The plan may be all right if it serves to instill in the prisoners a confidence in their own ability to "go straight." But it might well be abused and become a nuisance. It is rather surprising to find such a system applied in southern states, where prison discipline is reputed to be most strict.

Teach Them to Type

Have you ever sat down to a typewriter and intended to knock off a letter to a friend, and then given up in disgust because the A's, P's and S's weren't where you believed them to be? That is exasperating, because writing on a typewriter looks easy. Almost everyone, from children to men and women, well along in life, express interest in typewriters and try writing upon them at one time or another. The results for many are discouraging and they give up in despair after the first few attempts.

There is no mystery about a typewriter. Anyone who has two hands and who can read the English language in long hand can get the best of a typewriter if he keeps at it. The time spent in practice is well worth the effort, for everyone will find a typewriter to be a stenographer who does not have to be a stenographer to be a typewriter of practical value. They come in handy many times in almost any place.

The best way to operate a typewriter, of course, is to master the touch system. That is speedy, accurate and the accepted medium for becoming a good typist. But for many people, it is better to begin by learning to take a course in proper operation. The typewriter still offers a saving of time and genuine usefulness. Probably more typewriters are now being operated by the hunt and punch system than by any other method.

Typewriters are handy in the home as well as the office. They are a good piece of machinery to have around, especially where there are school children. While typewriting as a study is not compulsory in the schools it borders on one of the accomplishments that all young people should possess. Any boy or girl who can operate a typewriter is just that much better equipped for the future.

They may not enter office duties but the rudiments of typewriting will not interfere with any other line of work, and probably be of assistance.

The number of boys and girls even of grade school age who can sit down to a typewriter and do a fairly good job of writing is remarkable. This shows that the typewriter holds an appeal for them. Many have picked up this knowledge in piece-meal fashion. Whenever they have access to a machine they make use of the time.

Typing is a modern method of expression. There is no longer tolerance for the scrawls of long-hand. Schools recognize typing by including it in the curriculums. Don't scold the children if they slip into the library or dad's office and peck away at the typewriter. Encourage them, and they will soon have the rudiments of something that will be useful later in life.

Watch The Pork Barrel

Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska is girding himself to make an onslaught on "pork barrel" congressmen at the present session; and his fight is one in which all Americans interested in good government will heartily join.

The senator is concerned especially about the efforts of certain politicians to make a patronage pie out of such projects as the Tennessee Valley scheme. It is hard to think of anything that could be much more disastrous.

This Muscle Shoals business may be a good thing for the government to be doing and it may not; that, at the moment, isn't the point. Neither is nor any similar government project can be permitted to become a grab-bag for politicians who want to give jobs to deserving constituents. If the government lets the patronage-hunters get their hands on it, it will be doomed in advance to failure.

Baby's Name

The infant Japanese prince was named the other day, according to the ancient ritual. His father, Emperor Hirohito, brushed the name in ink on a silken scroll while imperial physicians chanted the name of the prince. At the same time artillery regiments and warships fired the imperial salute. The whole thing was broadcast over the radio throughout the Japanese empire and to remote parts of the world. It was a curious combination of ancient and modern methods which may be regarded as symbolic of present day Japan and of the life ahead of the Japanese here.

The name given to the imperial baby is Tsugunomiya Akihito. It means "the wise and successful prince." That is a large order for a grown man. No one can say today in what sort of world the prince will eventually rule or even what the Japan of his reign will be like. Kind people, whatever their attitude toward militaristic Japan now, hope the baby's awe-inspiring name may prove prophetic and that he may have both wisdom and success when he comes to emperorship.

SO THEY SAY!

Two statesmen who between them run a large part of the world—President Roosevelt and Adolf Hitler—both are self-made men.

DIVORCE CASE FILED, FIRST UNDER NEW RULE

The first suit to be filed in the Morgan county circuit court under the new legal practice act, a divorce action of Mrs. Mildred H. Williams against Bert M. Williams, was received at the office of Clerk Frank McGeehey Friday. Mrs. Williams alleges cruelty. Her attorney is D. J. Staley.

The bill sets forth that the couple were married April 2, 1927 and lived together until July 19, 1933. Mrs. Williams charges that on numerous occasions her husband struck her and once attempted to cut her throat with a razor.

Under the new practice act the filing and disposition of cases is much simplified. The case may be disposed of during this term of court, whereas the old procedure required more time in which to bring such cases to conclusion.

Frank Flynn represented the Woodson community in the city yesterday.

Winchester Receives $28,000 Federal Fund To Improve Waterworks

Washington, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Winchester, Ill., today was awarded a loan and grant of $28,000 by the Federal Public Works Board for improvement of the waterworks.

Winchester, Jan. 5.—When informed today of the receipt of the above dispatch, Mayor H. W. Leib expressed satisfaction over the prospect of an extensive improvement in Winchester's waterworks system. He stated that a request for funds to build a complete sewer system for the city is also pending at Washington. The total for the two projects is estimated at $100,000.

The waterworks improvement project calls for the construction of a new filter, the purchase and installation of new pumps, and a thorough cleaning of the city's water mains. A water softener will also be installed.

The city water supply comes from wells. Engineers have said it is adequate; but the water is very hard and cannot be conveniently used for all purposes. The improvements planned will give the city filtered soft water, which will add greatly to the comfort of the population. New pumps will make possible sufficient pressure to give ample fire protection.

TIME EXTENSION ON CITY PAVING PROJECT SOUGHT

Work was discontinued Friday on the paving of Broadway Alley between State and Morgan streets, and the men working on the project were transferred to other work. City Engineer Henderson applied for an extension of time on the alley paving, and did so some three days ago. The regular time expires yesterday.

The city engineer supposed the extension would be granted, but Friday discovered that the application for it had not gone through. He got into communication with Truman Platt of Springfield, district CWA engineer, who told him the matter would probably have to be taken up with the Chicago office.

Mayor Wainwright is much concerned over the stopping of the project, and has taken the matter up with the CWA organization. Paving of the alley was started at the south end, and about a quarter of the work is done. It was hoped to secure an extension of three days, in which workers could finish the job. It is believed the extension of time will be secured, so that the work can be finished before the weather becomes too severe.

Peterson, district supervisor, with offices in Springfield, was present at the conference. Statisticians also were present.

The conference was called for the purpose of establishing greater uniformity in the work in all the counties, particularly in the way of statistics relative to the unemployed. Representatives were present from all counties of the district.

Figures compiled in the district show the following number of persons employed through the NRS in each county: Morgan, 968; Greene, 508; Pike, 603; Cass, 533; Brown, 190; Schuyler, 316; Scott, 215. These represent persons working for the CWA, PWA and for private employers, the placements being made through the government offices.

CLUB WOMEN WILL STUDY BILLS NOW BEFORE CONGRESS

The Jacksonville Woman's club has received word from the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs, Law Observance department, urging them to study the bills which are coming up before this session of congress. The members are asked to give particular attention to the Tugwell Bill and every club president is asked to see that the members are informed in regard to this new Food and Drug Bill.

At the direction of assistant Secretary Tugwell and other officials the Department of Agriculture has drafted an entirely new "pure food law," and it is claimed by advocates of the bill that it is a more effective weapon against abuses than Dr. Wiley's, now antiquated statute provides. Much opposition to the proposed legislation has developed. It is claimed that if the bill is passed many industries will suffer.

The State chairman of Law and Observance, Mrs. Florence K. Gourley, suggests that every club should have at least one program, at which time, this bill and others should be discussed by speakers who are authorities upon the subject. She also points out the importance of studying the many phases of the bill, since there is opposition to it and since undoubtedly there are some weak points, which are open to criticism and sponsors both for and against the issue should be invited to present the subject to the organizations.

The Law Observance and Legislation departments are increasing in interest in the women's clubs, as the members feel more and more the importance of governmental issues which enter into the life of every American home.

CIRCUIT COURT TO BE CONVENED AT JERSEYVILLE

Jerseyville, Ill., Jan. 5.—Judge Walter W. Wright of Jacksonville will reconvene the Jersey County Circuit Court next Thursday morning for the purpose of entering a number of chancery orders and hearing the argument of several demurrers in cases on the Common Law docket.

The new practice act will furnish two default dates in the Jersey Circuit Court, the first and third Mondays of each month.

Judge Wright stated that one of the judges would be present each month for one of the default days though he considered it improbable that a judge could be present on both default occasions due to the large amount of work throughout the circuit.

With the filing of civil actions in the Circuit Court it is now necessary for the parties, plaintiff and defendant to indicate by written request the desire for a jury. When a sufficient number of such cases have accumulated in the local court, a jury will be summoned to try the cases filed.

Judge Wright reconvened the September term of the Circuit Court Wednesday afternoon and entered a number of orders in chancery. The following entries were made in various cases: Edward Cross and Mamie Cross, executors of the Last Will and Testament of Leslie Cross, deceased, vs. Jennie Hobson Smith, et al. For Trustee's report. Report of Trustees filed. Rule on all parties desiring to file objections to do so by the tenth inst.

Dependable Asphaltum Roofing company, vs. M. E. Eisler. Bill to enforce Lien. Master's report of testimony filed.

The Union Central Life Insurance vs. George East, et al. Foreclosure. Master's Report of Sale showing deficiency of $1200 filed and approved.

Walker L. Williams, Adm., et al. vs. Carl E. Hutchens and Stella G. Hutchens. Foreclosure. Master's report of testimony and computation filed.

Jerseyville Building Loan & Home-Steal Association vs. Ruth Flaherty. Foreclosure. Master's report of sale filed and approved.

The Union Central Life Insurance company vs. John W. Gilworth. Foreclosure. Motion of complainant for appointment of a receiver. Complainant's record filed. Proof of service of making application. No objection filed. Lewis Richards appointed receiver on filing bond of $1,000. Bond filed.

SPALDING HANDS ROUTT HARD SET-BACK 25 TO 9

BLUEBOYS INVADE
CARTHAGE; TIGERS
TO PLAY SPALDING

Collegians Seek Second Little 19 Win At Home Of Former Champs—Spalding Remains All Night At I. S. D. For Game With Tigers.

Illinois College's Blueboys, seeking their second Little 19 win of the week, will invade Carthage tonight to complete a busy week in which they will have played three games. Spalding, Routt high foe last night, remained all night as guests at the Illinois School for the Deaf and tonight will play the Tigers. Routt will go to St. Teresa, Decatur, for a tilt tonight.

The Tiger-Spalding game will be called at eight o'clock on the Tiger court. Coach Burns expects to use Cox and Mirus, forwards, Goldstand, center, Garland and Beard, guards. The Spalding line-up will be the same as the one which last night met Routt. The Tigers have lost two games thus far this season, but are the only team to boast a win over Ashland high.

Athletic Director Van Meter plans to use the same group of cagers against Carthage that turned in the victory at Eureka. The Blueboy coach believes that his organization has begun clicking and he expects to present a much improved team against Illinois State Normal here next Wednesday night when the Red Birds come here for a game. The starting line-up probably will be Miller and Bunch, forwards; Lester, center; Winn and either Sarff or Pearce, guards.

Other games tonight are: Quincy at Pittsfield; White Hall at Murrayville; Griggsville at Perry; Griggsville at Beardstown.

BEARDSTOWN AND ASHLAND WIN IN CLOSE CONTESTS

Chandlerville Almost Defeats Beardstown Varsity After Seconds Present Them With Lead—Ashland Goes Three Overtimes.

Beardstown, Jan. 5.—(Special)—Old Lady Luck crossed her fingers here tonight and let the basketball teams surviving in the Beardstown tournament go to it, and the results almost shook the western portion of Illinois. Presented with a six point lead by their second team, Beardstown's regulars dropped the advantage and then noted out Chandlerville by a scant margin of two points, 24 to 22, to gain one of the positions in the finals.

Ashland, victors of Jacksonville in the opening round, had to go three overtime periods to nose out a fighting Rushville team 23-20. Rushville coming within an ace of taking the game in the third overtime.

Ashland and Beardstown, pre-tournament favorites to meet in the finals, are the opponents in the championship game scheduled for Saturday night. Chandlerville and Rushville will meet in the consolation game at 8:15 o'clock, and the championship game will begin at 9:15.

Beardstown's seconds started the game against Chandlerville, and after a close scoring first quarter, they opened up and established a 15-9 lead. Coach Holt sent in his varsity quintet to hold the lead, but Chandlerville had other ideas. They were within four points of Beardstown at the end of the third quarter, and within two points of them at the close.

The heart-weakened crowd settled back to watch Ashland romp over Rushville, but again the old lady of fortune was out gathering wool. Ashland led at the end of the first half, 9-7, but Rushville shot its way to the front 16-13 during the third quarter. Ashland pulled up on over time, and the game ended tied 16 all. Each team scored a free throw in the first overtime period, and then each team got a field goal in the second overtime period.

Rushville went into the lead in the third overtime with a free throw, but Robert Ashland's lead-coring, caged a field goal to give Ashland the lead, and then sank another shot to end the game. The box scores:

BIBLE FAVORS OLD
GRID RULES; SAYS
MATCHES BETTER

(Note: This is another of a series of stories on the sports outlook, written especially for the Associated Press by prominent leaders.)

By D. X. Bible, President, American Football Coaches Association and Football Coach and Athletic Director, U. of Nebraska Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 5.—(AP)—There were many close football games played last fall and I think it was due to the fact that the teams were more closely matched than in some previous seasons. The Columbia victory over Stanford was a sensational climax to developments marking fresh enthusiasm for the game.

Our schedules found teams of the same caliber playing and this was perhaps the cause of the low scoring, rather than anything the matter with our rules. The question of playing teams of similar strength is considered now in arranging schedules because such games arouse more interest and naturally follow that means larger "gates."

The public often gets as great a thrill out of seeing a defensive team on the goal line as it does from seeing a team in action on the offense. The views expressed by Walter Oakes Brown, chairman of the national rules committee, at the recent meeting in Chicago are a good deal in line with my sentiments. He expressed the belief that except for some simplifications, changes in the present rules would be a mistake. Changes to promote this or that method of attack, he pointed out, would further complicate a code which already is too complicated.

The game is a fine one and Oakes was right when he said the rules committee should legislate not with the idea of furnishing a Roman holiday to the crowds, but always for the good of the boys who play the game. Many suggestions have been made for changes in the rules. These will be studied carefully by the rules committee. Personally, I am very much in favor of letting the rules stand, at least until they get stabilized or crystallized.

Another fine discussion at the recent meetings in Chicago was that of H. J. Stogeman, of Georgia, on means of stabilizing the coaching situation. I believe we can all help one another more and thus help stabilization. So many times a coach and publicator director will praise an opponent the weights of the team will be "increased" and the coach's own team will be spoken of as being so much lighter and as not in good physical condition. That reminds me of the way Caesar did in the old days, when he would praise the enemy and condemn his own army and then go and win the battles, with the idea that it would bring more credit to Caesar.

AMATEUR FIGHT
TOURNAMENTS WILL BE STAGED SOON

The amateur fight business has been in the doldrums this winter, but a survey of the outlook shows that better times are ahead. The Golden Glove tournaments are scheduled for several downtown cities in February, and plans are under way to send a team of at least eight Jacksonville scrappers to one of these punching parties.

Springfield will have a tournament February 12 and 13, and Quincy has one cased for February 13 and 14. Although the Jacksonville team always has competed in Springfield there is a chance of it going to Quincy this year.

Patrolman Guy Woods, who has always taken an active part in training amateurs, has been deluged with requests for places on the team. He expects to devote a number of his evenings to getting the boys in shape. There will be a number of olderimers out to make the team including Willie Barber, Clarence Robinson, and Jimmy Cason. Several Jacksonville High school boys have been boxing regularly and will join the squad. It is reported that big Abe Feduris, the 240-pound Illinois College football player, is considering entering one of the tournaments. Those who are urging him to get into the ring game say that if he can sock like he can block he will have little trouble in cleaning up the heavyweight division in the district tournament.

Winners of classes in the Springfield and Quincy tournaments will be sent to Chicago a week later to compete against winners of other district bouts.

Chapin was represented in the local community yesterday by R. O. Schumacher, Erwin Auldenkamp, H. P. Joy, Henry Pahlman, and Roy Van Gundy.

Frazier Ties Up Count In Last Minute Of Play To Give Pittsfield New Lease After Pleasant Hill Rush—Win 39-34.

Pleasant Hill, Jan. 5.—(Special)—Frazier's basket in the last 30 seconds of play, during the regular playing time and his continued scoring during the overtime period, gave Pittsfield a 39 to 34 victory over Pleasant Hill here tonight in a basketball game which involved leadership of the Illinois Valley conference. Pittsfield winning after Pleasant Hill had come from behind to take the lead by two points with only a half minute to go.

A hammer and tong battle from the start, Pleasant Hill's never say die spirit brought them from trailing eight points at the end of the third quarter to a tie as the game ended. Pittsfield held an 11-5 margin at the end of the first quarter, but Pleasant Hill pulled up steadily during a fast second quarter, the half ending 17-15. Pittsfield went out in front again during the third quarter, 28-20, but Pleasant Hill joined the battle with four field goals, leading Pleasant Hill to the front.

Frazier's shot saved Pittsfield from a defeat during the regular playing time, and he continued his assault during the overtime, pitching in two more baskets before the three minutes were over. Pleasant Hill outscored Pittsfield from the field but lost the game from the free throw line.

Pittsfield seconds won the curtain raiser, another nip and tuck battle, from the Pleasant Hill reserves 26-21. The box score:

IDENTIFIES CAR USED BY BANDITS IN HOLDUP HERE

Marlin Coker, attendant at the Conoco filling station on South Main street, returned Friday night from a town where he identified a 7 passenger Buick sedan as the same car in which three bandits visited the filling station here on the night of Dec. 15, and robbed it of cash.

Coker is confident the machine has the same bandits used, as he took notice of several features. One bandit had a state official's star on the side. The car now held is the property of Charles Casey, an official of the Illinois Supreme Court, which was stolen a short time before the holdup in Chicago.

The filling station attendant also was taken into the presence of Virgil Summers, Mt. Vernon, a sugar thief arrested in connection with the case and a series of holdups. Summers is suspected of having been the driver in the holdup here. Coker of years, considering the abrupt return in price, was announced Friday. George Snyder has sold his 82-acre farm located on the hard road a few miles south of the city to Louis Ward for a consideration of $11,500. The transaction figures about $148 per acre.

This was a cash sale with no strings attached. Mr. Ward buying the farm for a place to live. He expects to move to the property March 1. The

Not since 1929 when farm values took a dizzy drop has Morgan county witnessed a sale in which the value was so distinct. Many good farms have been sold for $100 an acre and less. The Snyder and Ward transaction will be taken by some as a forerunner of a general increase in the value of farm property.

The Snyder property is well located and improved, all being under cultivation.

There was a long pause. Then he said, with forced brightness, "I tell you what, you come and have lunch with Gypsy—with my wife and me. That would be better wouldn't it?"

Gypsy didn't listen to the rest. She was trying not to be too angry. Who was this person who intruded upon their first night at home? It wasn't fair.

TOM came away from the telephone with that suspiciously too-casual air which young husbands often wear, and with which Gypsy was not yet familiar. Something deep in her bones, however, recognized it and stiffened to meet it.

"Old girl friend," Tom yawned. The yawn, also, was a shade too theatrical. Gypsy, straightening books, did not reply.

"I told you about her, darling," Tom pursued, coming up to her, and slipping his arms around her. "Vera Gray—I saw quite a lot of her when I worked in Boston, you remember."

Gypsy remembered, quite clearly, all she had heard of this Vera person. She was big and beautiful in a full-blown way. Rosina had told her. She had been making "a dead set for Tom," according to Rosina, when Gypsy had come upon the scene. Tom and Gypsy had known each other in childhood, but hadn't met until a little more than a year ago, at a studio party. Tom, just back from Boston, feeling his way about an unfamiliar city in his new job, had taken one look at Gypsy and promptly relinquished the full-blown Vera.

"What on earth is she doing in town?" Gypsy said, trying to keep the crossness out of her voice.

"She's in New Haven," Tom said, gleefully. "She was driving down . . . didn't know a thing about my Big Moment (meaning you) and since we were in the new telephone book, just gave me a ring."

"I see," Gypsy sounded miles away, and quite as if she didn't see at all.

"How could I help asking her to lunch, darling?" Tom coaxed. "She wanted to see me, for old-time's sake, and naturally I want my old friends to meet my wife."

"Old friends!" Gypsy, pretending to dust a silver candlestick, wouldn't meet his eye.

"Look here, darling, what's this all about?" She melted when Tom set his jaw and talked to her like that. "Aren't you being awfully silly?"

"I—I guess so."

"Well, stop it, then, and be your own adorable self. Look your loveliest when you have lunch with me and Vera tomorrow. At the Algonquin, at one. I want her to be properly dazzled by my wife."

"Oh, oh!" Gypsy stared at him, accusingly. "You know it's my first day back at work and I can't possibly come that far uptown for lunch. You know it!"

"I swear I forgot," Tom looked resentful. He hated to be put in the wrong. And yet, and yet—wasn't it the first of many small annoyances, when you had a working wife?

Gypsy's heart was sore. Their first evening at home had a cloud on it. Tom would be lurching tomorrow—not only without her, but with another woman!
